

A close-up photograph of a grey metal casting. The casting has a complex shape with a flange on the right side. A red rectangular box is drawn on the front face of the casting, highlighting a specific area. The background is blurred, showing another part of the casting.